b. Outdoor Lighting – Senior Planner, Matt Taylor.

Senior City Planner, Matt Taylor, reviewed the Outdoor Lighting Plan. The proposed ordinance was intended to bring a simple, straightforward ordinance that anyone can use. He emphasized the importance of conserving energy and natural resources and increasing health and safety. Tools that achieve multiple objectives were described. He explained that the ordinance will apply to all land uses with the exception of single-family homes. The ordinance will also apply to interior remodels affecting more than 50% of a structure. He noted that the Planning Commission felt strongly that staff should prepare standards for single-family residential and they have a well-balanced and reasonable standard most can implement. The Council recommended staff amend the language to make it an optional standard. Mr. Taylor reviewed the language and stated that they amended the definition of net acre and provided clarification on applicability. Chief Robby Russo suggested that automatic switching controls be recommended rather than required. Seasonal decorations may be illuminated as many are having permanent lighting installed at their homes that may be illuminated for up to 180 non-consecutive days per year.

Community and Development Director, Mike Johnson, reported that there is language addressing residential lighting; however, if the Council decides to make lighting a requirement, the wording can be revised.

Mr. Tingey clarified that currently with single-family residential, lighting is an optional element so enforcement is not built into the ordinance as currently drafted. If the Council would like to include non-optional as a requirement, they would need to reevaluate the standards to ensure that they are objective and consistent. Mr. Taylor reviewed the lighting options.

c. East Jordan Canal Trail.

Mr. Tingey next reviewed the East Jordan Canyon Trail and described the funding. The trail is owned by Salt Lake City and the City would need to have an agreement in place before moving forward. He indicated that Public Works Director, Matt Shipp, has been heavily involved and will be proposing the first step in the project during the Business Meeting.

Mayor Peterson stated that trails are not difficult to maintain if constructed correctly. He suggested they take advantage of every opportunity before they are gone. Mr. Tingey described the trail design and believed it would increase walkability.

City Attorney, Shane Topham reported they reached an agreement with Salt Lake City who came back with a one sentence change asking Cottonwood Heights to monitor the trail and the surrounding ground. He confirmed that the land is owned by Salt Lake City and Cottonwood Heights would be obtaining a revocable license to use the trail. He changed the sentence and agreed that Cottonwood Heights would do its best to monitor the trail and promptly inform Salt Lake City of any
They will also cooperate with any efforts to enforce property rights. The change had yet to be accepted and negotiations would continue.

4.0 PUBLIC COMMENT

4.1 Proposed Outdoor Lighting Ordinance – Senior Planner, Matt Taylor.

Senior Planner, Matt Taylor stated that light pollution is defined as light that is not wanted since too much or too little light can be detrimental to the health, safety and welfare of the public. In preparation for the lighting ordinance, staff considered consolidating the existing ordinances into a comprehensive standard that generates a single comprehensive approach to regulating lighting. He reported that they surveyed several municipalities on the principals of conserving energy and resources, improving the enjoyment of private property from light trespass, and other nuisance violations. Lighting issues were described. He explained that when they began revising the Code, they went forward with a land use approach that would affect all land uses with the exception of single-family residential zones. The Planning Commission initially asked staff to prepare standards for residential single-family zones but later recommended that those standards be made optional.

Mayor Peterson opened the meeting to public comment.

Ken Garner reported that he is an Electrical Engineer by trade and an award-winning Lighting Designer who has been designing commercial properties for 28 years. He commented that streetlights throughout the City were installed years ago near the power source and their locations are not ideal. He believed that calling a fixture full cut off is debatable and the ordinance should define exactly what that means. Full cut off may actually impact historic light fixtures and limits choice. He stated that glare at the property line plays an important role in light trespass as do height restrictions.

Eric Kraan asked what the City plans to do about upgrading and creating full cut off lighting. He stated that glare can impact pedestrian safety and cause issues when driving or walking.
suggested the City assist in upgrading residential lighting fixtures and appropriate some of the funds received through the Energy Tax.

There were no additional comments. The public comment period was closed.
